The U.S. “Needs More Russia Experts” — The Washington Post

Explore Russian and East European Studies (REES) at Northwestern!

Learn about our new REES major and minor!

Why is the most popular class at NU Prof. Saul Morson’s Introduction to Russian Literature?

German Chancellor Angela Merkel knows Russian...How about you?

What is he really saying???
Learn Russian and find out!

RUSSIAN & EAST EUROPEAN STUDIES

CONTACT INFORMATION

Slavic Languages and Literatures
Northwestern University
Kresge Hall, 3-305
1880 Campus Drive
Evanston, IL 60201

DEPARTMENT OF SLAVIC LANGUAGES & LITERATURES

Director of Undergraduate Studies
Martina Kerlova
m-kerlova@northwestern.edu

Department Chair
Gary Saul Morson
g-morson@northwestern.edu

Department Assistant
Martha Witwer
martha.witwer@northwestern.edu

http://www.slavic.northwestern.edu
There are many reasons why students may wish to sample courses in Russian, Polish, and Czech languages, literatures and cultures, offered through the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures.

Considering a new major or minor? Some courses in History, Art History, Political Science, Economics, Theater, Film, and Humanities may be counted towards a major or minor in Russian and East European Studies.

Dostoevsky, Tolstoy, Chekhov, Bulgakov: Russia's great writers explore the philosophical, political, and psychological issues that have shaped the modern world. Politics and the humanities go hand in hand in Eastern European culture: Explore politics and history through the film, music, art and popular culture of Russia, Poland and the Czech Republic.

Russia is a major player in global and US politics; learning Russian can be an asset to your career! Slavic majors have gone on to careers in the State Department, Department of Defense, Department of the Treasury, economics, international relations, law, journalism, medicine, and other fields.

Students also have been accepted into top programs at Yale, Harvard, University of Michigan, Berkeley, Toronto, University of Virginia, University of London, and other institutions. More than 12 of our students have won Fulbrights to Poland and Russia!

In 2016, a Wall Street Journal article noted that among recent graduates, area studies and language studies majors posted the largest salary gains!

FALL QUARTER 2019

- RUSSIAN 101-1: Elementary Russian
- RUSSIAN 102-1: Intermediate Russian
- SLAVIC 105-6: First Year Seminar
- POLISH 108-1: Elementary Polish
- POLISH 208-1: Intermediate Polish
- SLAVIC 210-2: Introduction to Russian Literature (Tolstoy and Dostoevsky)
- RUSSIAN 302-1: Russian Lang and Culture
- RUSSIAN 304-1: Advanced Prof. Russian
- SLAVIC 314: Chekhov
- SLAVIC 360: 19th Century Russian Poetry
- SLAVIC 368: Tarkovsky's World Cinema (RTVF 321, CLS 305)
- SLAVIC 390: Russian Writer and the State, from Stalin to Putin (INTL STUDIES 390)

WINTER QUARTER 2020

- RUSSIAN 101-2: Elementary Russian
- RUSSIAN 102-2: Intermediate Russian
- POLISH 108-2: Elementary Polish
- POLISH 208-2: Intermediate Polish
- SLAVIC 210-1: Introduction to Russian Literature (Pushkin, Gogol, Lermontov)
- SLAVIC 255: Slavic Civilizations: The Balkans (LING 222)

SPRING QUARTER 2020

- SLAVIC 302-2: Russian Lang and Culture
- SLAVIC 390: Introduction to Polish Literature
- SLAVIC 392: Czech New Wave Film

Let our award-winning teachers help you get your humanities fix while planning your future!